

Counting Blessings

Don Gnecco

There are times in our lives when the days seem so dark.
There are times in our lives when we sometimes remark
That it all seems so sad, things are all going wrong,
So we'll count all our blessings in song.

*Counting our blessings in unison.
We sing in gratitude, counting ev'ry one.
Counting our blessings in unison.
Together we're thankful, we're
Counting Blessings, counting ev'ry one.*

There are days that are clear, when it all seems so right.
There are days in our lives when the future seems bright.
When we know we are loved, when we feel we belong,
Let us count all our blessings in song.

*Counting our blessings in unison.
We sing in gratitude, counting ev'ry one.
Counting our blessings in unison.
Together we're thankful, we're
Counting Blessings, counting ev'ry one.
Counting Blessings, counting ev'ry one.*
